

The Business Case for Pulsed Electromagnetic Field (PEMF) Treatment in a Medical Practice

What Doctor doesn't want to help clients AND improve their medical practice?

PEMF technology has been around for decades after its development by NASA. Astronauts left the earth's magnetic field when it was discovered that PEMF is vital for human health. The earth's natural magnetic field is now only 10% of its historical level of intensity. It stands to reason that this extreme reduction is causing worse problems for your patients than it did for the astronauts on their short flights.

PEMF devices in the past were large, difficult to use, could pose risks to patients if not properly set up and very expensive. Pulsed Harmonix's PEMF treatment device, the TruePulse A2000 has been engineered to help supply the missing electro magnetic energy necessary for human survival, allowing it to help your patients and your practice.

Here are our top 12 ways PEMF helps medical practices:

1 Differentiate Your Practice from the Competition

How many Doctors in your area are you competing against? One way to differentiate your practice from the competition is to offer PEMF treatments that rapidly become a virtual necessity.

"I can assure you the Pulsed Harmonix A2000 is one of the best values in therapeutic equipment I have ever used. I absolutely love the outcomes my patients are experiencing and the therapeutic hole that the A2000 filled in my practice."

—Jeffrey L. Marrongelle DC, C.C.N

2 New Technology to Treat Patients

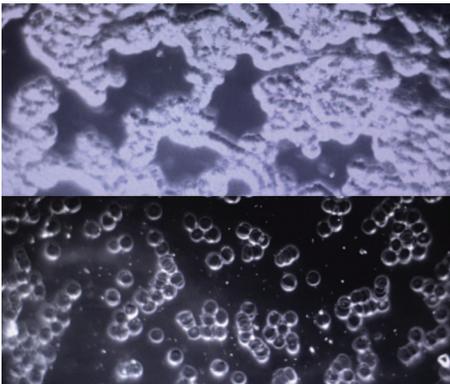

Do you have patients that have not responded well to your standard treatments? You may want to try PEMF before they look for a solution to their problem outside of your practice. By utilizing Pulsed Harmonix's therapy to help detox and revive their vital functions, your patients may start to have a positive response in conjunction with the other therapies you are treating them with.

3 Effective

Life depends on the earth's electromagnetic forces and Pulsed Harmonix's pulsed electromagnetic field (PEMF) therapy delivers this energy to inflamed tissue through a series of magnetic pulses stimulating repair at the cellular level. The A2000 produces a full range of frequencies shown to detox the body, reduce inflammation, and stimulate and revive its natural healing capability. A uni-polar DC generated pulse is generated to efficiently transfer energy into the body.

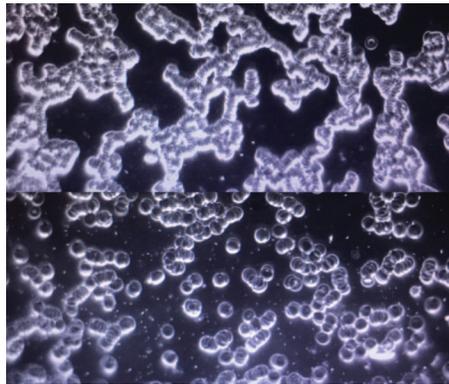

"Not only do [patients] love the way it makes them feel, but the pre-and post live blood cell results (and this on people with significant health problems) have been nothing short of impressive. Subjective and objective clinical changes are what we are all striving for."

—Dr. Rob DeMartino, D.C., Superior Health Solutions, Henderson, NV

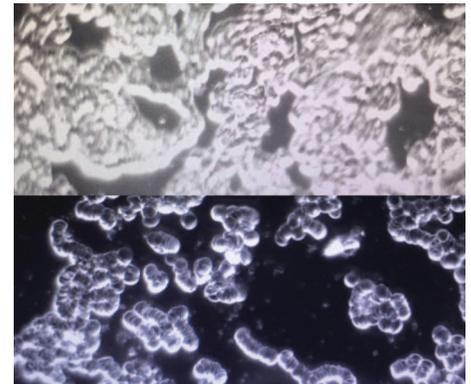

Patient 1 – Major hormonal imbalances, and chronic fatigue

Post photo taken after one session on the TruePulse A2000

Patient 2 – Psoriatic arthritis

Post photo taken after 9 sessions on the TruePulse A2000

Patient 3 – Multiple auto-immune disorders

Post photo taken after 19 sessions on the TruePulse A2000

4 Safe

The A2000 produces its beneficial frequency with only 20 watts of power and is FDA Class 1 Registered Medical Device manufactured in the US to medical device standards. Studies by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) and the National Institutes of Health (NIH) conclude that PEMF is safe and effective for humans and animals.

5 No Radio Frequency Emissions

There is no need to isolate the unit from other sensitive electrical equipment due to radio frequency emissions.

6 Compact

Compared to older technology the A2000 is small. The unit itself is about half of the size of a shoebox and weighs only 4.1 lbs. yet it produces a full range of low to high intensity - up to 4,000 Gauss.

As Dr. Ron Spallone of Littleton, CO put it: After seeing how efficiently [PHx] had captured the healing essence of PEMF into a smaller machine through ingenious electrical engineering, it made much more sense to enter the field for literally 10x less money than some of the big units.”

7 Easy to Use

Our True Pulse A2000 device has two controls: 1) a timer that sets the duration of the therapy session and 2) an intensity control that provides the most widely researched naturally generated earth frequencies producing gauss levels from approximately 70 to over 1,000 gauss depending on the applicator and how it is used.

8 Different Applicators Allow for Precise Placement

Applicators are the attachments that allow you to treat specific areas of the body or the entire central core. The applicator can be kept in place during the therapy session without intervention from your staff or inconveniencing the patient.

9 Set Up Treatment and Work with Other Patients

After you place one of our applicators on the patient you can set the timing of the treatment in 15 minute increments. On the first visit you may run a 15 minute test session. In follow-up sessions you may try 30 or 45 minutes therapy durations. As the patient receives the treatment you can work with other patients allowing you to be more productive.

“Once I teach (a patient) how and where to use the pads or loops [applicators], it almost becomes a self-service modality. I can set them up, initiate the therapy, set the timer on my phone, and go attend to other patients. Most other modalities require constant attention or application by a doctor or technician.”

—Dr. Jeffrey L. Marrongelle DC, C.C.N

Sample Workflow

Your staff can introduce patients to PEMF therapy while they wait for their other therapies to begin.

- 1 - On arrival, treat patient on A2000/Mat or Pouch Applicator by receptionist in the waiting room with customary medical precautions.
- 2 - PEMF immediately energizes RBCs, begins reducing inflammation and pain, facilitates detoxification, and stimulates the parasympathetic nervous system.
- 3 - Perform spinal adjustment more rapidly with less force applied to patient.
- 4 - Continue other follow-up treatments, including localized PEMF as needed.

10 Recurring Treatment Protocol

Although patients have had results after one session (as verified by before and after pictures of blood samples) they will be better served by ongoing therapy. Ongoing therapy means more patient visits and interactions that are positive for your practice.

11 Affordable

PEMF devices have long been known for a very large initial investment. However that is no longer the case.

"I have long known about PEMF and even had a few units already in place. The problem with them has always been the more power that you are looking to achieve the more costly these units become. With the volume of patients that we have searching for our help, it isn't very practical from a cost perspective to have as many units as we would need.

The price point of the Pulsed Harmonix [A2000], coupled with the power solves that problem! At first I was confused at how you could generate near as much power as the bigger units out there for a fraction of the cost, but I have seen the results with my own patients."

—Dr. Rob DeMartino, D.C., Superior Health Solutions, Henderson, NV

"I have been in the energy medicine industry for over 2 decades and encountered many types of devices and I am very impressed with the TruePulse A2000. I consider it to be the best value of PEMF devices on the market and highly recommend it."

—Dr. Lisa Tully, PhD, Energy Medicine Research Institute, Boulder, CO

12 Rapid Return on Investment

Pays for itself in 19 Treatment Days!

- Purchase the A2000 Pro-Kit for $4,450
- Charge $20 per 15 minute session
- Treat 12 patients per working day (on average) or 6 for 30 mins. each
- $240 day x 19 days = $4,560

Continue treating patients the rest of the year

- Annually: $20 x 12 patients x 250 days = $60,000
- Gross annual profit (year 1) of $55,500
- 1,248% return on capital investment

"Your device is the number one PEMF device of choice of The Master Circle!"

—Dr. Bob Hoffman, D.C., CEO, The Masters Circle

Get Started Today!

A Bundle Makes Getting Started Easy

We offer a Pro-Kit that includes everything your practice will need to get started treating patients. The Pro-Kit includes: the A2000 Pulsar Unit, a Spiral Mat Applicator, A butterfly Mitt Applicator, A Flexible Pouch Applicator, and a Junction Barrel so you can use two applicators simultaneously.

Risk Free

We offer a 30 Day Money Back Guarantee - If you are not completely satisfied with the A2000, simply return the undamaged device within 30 days of purchase and receive a full refund (less a $200 restocking fee). The A2000 Pro-Kit (device and applicators) has a 3 year-limited warranty.

LEARN MORE

Visit our website to learn more about the technology:

www.pulsedharmonix.com

CALL NOW

Call \(855\) 749-7363

to discuss your questions, place an order and improve your practice.

Pulsed Harmonix proudly manufactures the True Pulse A2000®

We sell direct to you.

